Most Initial Problems Can Be Diagnosed in Under 20 Minutes.

$39 is all we need to diagnose just about any electrical problem at your home. We allow up to 30 minutes for that $39 minimum service call giving you a 50% time padding...just in case. Occasionally the time will exceed that, but you have the power to continue, not us. If we cannot diagnose your home electrical problem for $39 all you need to do is tell the electrician in your home that you are not satisfied and you don't owe us one single penny.

Many times the root of the electrical problem is not exactly as it seems at first. Sure a light bulb may be repeatedly burning out. The problem may be electrical nature, but often the light fixture is not rated for the bulb or insulation is blocking the cooling ports of the fixture. Sometimes the fixture used was the wrong one and other times the problem stems from a poor connection in the fixture, at the light switch or at the circuit breaker. We don't know until we actually trace down the problem and simply guessing what the problem is over the phone is irresponsible and just plain wrong.
